Divinings:
Religion at Harvard
From its Origins in New England Ecclesiastical History to the 175th Anniversary of the Harvard Divinity School, 1636–1992
by George H. Williams, edited by Rodney L. Petersen

Harvard has often been referred to as “godless Harvard.” This is far from the truth. The fact is that Harvard is and always has been concerned with religion. This volume addresses the reasons for this. The story of religion at Harvard in many ways is the story of religion in the United States. This edition will clarify this relationship. Furthermore, the question of religion is central not only to the religious history of Harvard but to its very corporate structure and institutional evolution. The volume is divided into three parts and deals with the Formation of Harvard College in 1636 and Evolution of a Republic of Letters in Cambridge (Volume 1, First Light); Religion in the University, the Foundations of a Learned Ministry and the Development of the Divinity School (Volume 2, The “Augustan Age”); and the Contours of Religion and Commitment in an Age of Upheaval and Globalization (Volume 3, Calm Rising: Through Change and Through Storm). Replete with extensive footnotes, this edition will be a treasure to future historians, persons interested in religious history and in the development of theology, at first clearly Reformed and Protestant, later ecumenical and interfaith.

3 vols, 1414p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, February 2014) hardcover, 9783525550564, $232.00. Special Offer $186.00

Vying for Truth – Theology and the Natural Sciences
From the 17th Century to the Present
by Hans Schwarz

The emancipation of the natural sciences from religion was a gradual affair during the last four centuries. This book traces this historical development with its twists and turns in both Europe and North America. It depicts the major players in this story and outlines their specific contributions. The main focus is on the 19th and 20th centuries with figures such as Darwin and Hodge, but also Beecher and Abbott in the 19th century. In the 20th century, the narrative starts with Karl Barth and moves all the way to Hawking and Tipler.

240p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, July 2014) paperback, 9783525540282, $53.00. Special Offer $43.00

Handbook Dutch Church History
edited by Herman J. Selderhuis

Thirty years after the last overview, here, finally, is a new and overall history of the church in the Netherlands, and the first interconfessional handbook on Dutch church history ever. In clear language and organized for use in classrooms as well as for reference, the book offers a complete overview of persons, events, and developments that have shaped the Christian church in the Netherlands through the ages up until today. The contributions collected by H. J. Selderhuis do not attempt to give a recitation of facts, but rather to tell the story of the Christian church as an integral part of the fullness of life.

ca. 672p, 3 illus (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, October 2014) hardcover, 9783525557877, $150.00. Special Offer $120.00
Philip Melanchthon and the Cappadocians
A Reception of Greek Patristic Sources in the Sixteenth Century
by H. Ashley Hall
Organized around Melanchthon's use of Cappadocian works against his opponents – Roman Catholics, the Radical Reformers, the Reformed – this volume places Melanchthon within the context of the patristic reception of his time.

Acta of the Synod of Dordt
Acta et Documenta Synodi Nationalis Dordrechtae (1618–1619), Volume I edited by Donald Sinnema, Christian Moser and Herman J. Selderhuis
The goal of this edition project is to produce a critical edition of all the documents of the Synod of Dordrecht in their original languages (predominantly Latin, but some in Dutch, English, German and French). This critical edition will comprise nine volumes.

Law and Religion
The Legal Teachings of the Protestant and Catholic Reformations edited by Wim Decock, Jordan J. Ballor, Michael Germann and Laurent Waelkens Contributions on the impact of the Reformations on law, jurisprudence, and moral theology. The overall impression conveyed by the essays is that on the level of substantive doctrine (the legal teachings) there seems to be more continuity between Protestant and Catholic jurisprudence and theology than usually expected.

(A)Visibility
Reflections upon Visibility and Transcendence in Theology, Philosophy and the Arts
edited by Anna Vind, Iben Damgaard, Kirsten Busch Nielsen and Sven Rune Havsteen
This volume reconsiders the relation between visibility and transcendence. The focus is especially on the contributions from the theological tradition in Protestant Europe between the 16th and the 21st centuries. A plurality of methods drawn from theology, philosophy, and the history and theory of art is employed.

Britain and the Bestandstwisten
The Causes, Course and Consequences of British Involvement in the Dutch Religious and Political Disputes of the Early Seventeenth Century
by Eric Platt
Although the disputes began over predestination, they quickly took on political overtones as the two sides vehemently debated proper church-state relations and leading Dutch officials began supporting differing sides.

A Heavenly Directory
Trinitarian Piety, Public Worship and a Reassessment of John Owen’s Theology by Ryan M. McGraw
This volume seeks to reassess Owen’s theology in light of the way in which he connected his trinitarian piety to his views of public worship. McGraw argues that Owen’s teaching on communion with God as triune was the foundation of his views of public worship and that he regarded public worship as the highest expression of communion with the triune God.

Konsolidierung des reformierten Bekenntnisses im Reich der Stephanskronen Ein Beitrag zur Kommunikationsgeschichte zwischen Ungarn und der Schweiz in der frühen Neuzeit (1500–1700)
by Jan-Andrea Bernhard
Jan-Andrea Bernhard explores the history of relations between Switzerland and Hungary in the 16th and 17th century, starting with the question of why the Hungarian Reformation in their majority joined the Helvetic Confession, although the contact to Germany had been more intensive. German text.

272p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, March 2014, Refo500 Academic Studies 16)
hardcover, 9783525550670, $116.00. Special Offer $93.00

700p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, October 2014) hardcover, 9783525550786, $263.00. Special Offer $211.00

336p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, July 2014, Refo500 Academic Studies 20)
hardcover, 9783525550748, $165.00. Special Offer $132.00

304p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, June 2014, Reformed Historical Theology 28) hardcover, 9783525550779, $120.00. Special Offer $96.00

270p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, May 2014, Reformed Historical Theology 29) hardcover, 9783525550755, $135.00. Special Offer $108.00

792p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, July 2014, Refo500 Academic Studies 19) hardcover, 9783525550700, $155.00. Special Offer $124.00

592p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, July 2014, Refo500 Academic Studies 18) hardcover, 9783525550717, $195.00. Special Offer $156.00

36p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, July 2014, Refo500 Academic Studies 17) hardcover, 9783525550724, $150.00. Special Offer $120.00
Religious Competition in the Third Century CE Jews, Christians, and the Greco-Roman World
edited by Jordan D. Rosenblum, Lily Vuong and Nathaniel DesRosiers

The essays in this work examine issues related to authority, identity, or change in religious and philosophical traditions of the third century CE. This century is of particular interest because of the political and cultural developments and conflicts that occurred during this period, which in turn drastically changed the social and religious landscape of the Roman world. The focus of this volume is to explore these major creative movements and to examine their strategies for developing and designating orthodoxies and orthopraxies. Contributors were encouraged to analyze or construct the intersections between parallel religious and philosophical communities of the third century, including points of contact, between or among Jews, Christians, pagans, and philosophers.

Special Offer $73.00

The Portrayals of the Pharisees in the Gospels and Acts
by Mary Marshall

The first five books of the New Testament contain a large proportion of all uses of the term Farisai/oj in extant literature. In light of growing scepticism among historians of Judaism over the accuracy and legitimacy of reconstructions of the Pharisees of history, Mary Marshall offers an analysis of the portrayal of the Pharisees by each evangelist. The author adopts a redaction critical approach which incorporates narrative critical observations where appropriate. Her examination of the texts demonstrates the particularity of each book and its portrayal of the Pharisees. This study of material from the gospels and Acts yields multi-faceted portraits of the Pharisees and discloses the variety of christological, soteriological, ecclesiological and ethical concerns with which they are associated. It alerts the exegete both to the nuances within a given New Testament book and to the subtle differences between books. It demonstrates the combination of fidelity and freedom with which the evangelists regarded their inherited tradition and sources. The way the Pharisees are portrayed in each text is particular to that text and its purposes, and therefore consideration of the Pharisees’ portrayal is able to enrich our understanding of the gospels and Acts more generally.

272p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, July 2014, Forschungen zur Religion und Literatur des Alten und Neuen Testaments 254) hardcover, 9783525536155, $139.00.
Special Offer $112.00

Continuity and Discontinuity
Chronological and Thematic Development in Isaiah 40–66
edited by Lena-Sofia Tiemeyer and Hans M. Barstad

This volume of collected essays focuses on the relationship between the different texts within Isaiah 40–66. It reinvestigates and challenges the traditional division between chapters 40–55 and 56–66 and explores new ways of reading the last 27 chapters of the book of Isaiah. Some contributions belong to the tradition of historical-critical research. They examine existing models of textual development of Isa 40–66 and offer new suggestions. They also explore the interplay between the historical development of the text and its thematic continuity and discontinuity. Other contributions explore the final form of Isa 40–66 and suggest reading strategies that do justice to the message of the extant text. Yet other articles make case studies of specific elements of Isa 40–66.

259p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, April 2014, Forschungen zur Religion und Literatur des Alten und Neuen Testaments 255) hardcover, 9783525536148, $139.00.
Special Offer $112.00

The Courtier and the Governor Transformations of Genre in the Nehemiah Memoir
by Sean Burt

The Nehemiah Memoir, the narrative of the royal cupbearer sent to rebuild Jerusalem, is central to Ezra-Nehemiah’s account of Persian Judah. Yet its emphasis on one individual’s efforts makes it a text that ill-fits the book’s story of a communal restoration. Sean Burt analyzes the nature of this curious text through the lens of genre criticism and identifies the impact of its use of genres on its early reception in Ezra-Nehemiah. Drawing upon contemporary theorists of literary genre, within the field of biblical studies and beyond, he builds an understanding of genre capable of addressing both its flexibility and its necessarily historical horizon.

Special Offer $120.00
The doctrine of justification is of highest importance for evangelical theology. But regarding their understanding of liturgy, Orthodox and Roman-Catholic churches seem to be more aware of the priority of God’s doing than protestant churches. This book, building on ecumenical liturgical theology from North America and Italy, suggests the possibility to find in the worship service the place where justification can become actual experience. German text.

Karl Barth in den Niederlanden

This volume presents Karl Barth’s theological, cultural, and political reception and impact on the Netherlands as a whole. Hennecke’s reflections may be suitable to start and compare Karl Barth’s receptions internationally. German text.

“Er ist unser Friede”

The ethics of peace developed by Karl Barth and his Mennonite pupil John H. Yoder provide orientation for today’s churchly and ecumenical debates about Christian Pacifism and Christian Just War Tradition. Hofheinz’ study reconstructs and reassesses the christological basis of Barth’s and Yoder’s endeavor and compares Barth’s and Yoder’s concept of following Jesus. German text.
III: From Modernism to Post-Modernism.
Part 2: 20th Century
This second part to the final volume continues its critical presentation of research into the Hebrew Bible / Old Testament and takes into account new aspects of this development in the 20th century.
810p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, November 2014) hardcover, 9783525540220, $225.00. Special Offer $180.00

III: From Modernism to Post-Modernism.
Part 1: The Nineteenth Century
This first part of the final volume deals with the nineteenth century, when a decisive historical-critical approach came into focus, which generated tension between this new method and the traditional scriptural interpretation of the Church.
757p, illus (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, November 2012) hardcover, 9783525540213, $240.00. Special Offer $192.00

Rethinking Biblical Scholarship
Changing Perspectives 4
by Philip R. Davies
Rethinking Biblical Scholarship brings together seminal essays to provide readers with an assessment of the archaeological and exegetical research which has transformed the discipline of biblical studies over the last two decades. The essays focus on history and historiography, exploring how scholarly constructs and ideologies mold historical, literary and cultural data and shape scholarly discourse. Most of the essays illustrate the development of what has been called a ‘minimalist’ methodology. 256p (Acumen Publishing, March 2014, Copenhagen International Seminar) hardcover, 9781844657278, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00

The Bible and Hellenism
Greek Influence on Jewish and Early Christian Literature
edited by Thomas L. Thompson and Philippe Wajdenbaum
This volume takes up one of the most pressing and controversial questions of Bible Studies today: the influence of classical literature on the writing and formation of the Bible. Bringing together a wide range of international scholars, The Bible and Hellenism explores the striking parallels between biblical and earlier Greek literature and examines the methodological issues raised by such comparative study.
320p (Acumen Publishing, February 2014, Copenhagen International Seminar) hardcover, 9781844657865, $120.00. Special Offer $96.00

I: From the Beginning to the Middle Ages (Until 1300)
Part 2: The Middle Ages
This volume covers most of the world as it was known in the Middle Ages: from Syria to Spain, from Rome to the Rhine and the Seine. The volume also contains supplements to the previous volume.
729p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, December 2000) hardcover, 9783525535073, $165.00. Special Offer $132.00

I: From the Beginning to the Middle Ages (Until 1300)
Part 1: Antiquity
The first volume of the series deals with questions of the canon with regard to its interpretation from the Jewish, New Testament, rabbinic, and patristic point of view, and encompasses the time up to Augustine.
847p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, December 1996) hardcover, 9783525536360, $195.00. Special Offer $156.00

Hebrew Bible/Old Testament
Complete Set – Vols. I–III
edited by Magne Sæbø
The long and complex history of reception and interpretation of the Hebrew Bible / Old Testament through the ages is at the center of the Hebrew Bible / Old Testament project. This comprehensive standard reference brings together Christian and Jewish specialists in the field from all over the world to describe Old Testament exegesis from the beginnings of intra-Biblical text interpretation to modern research. The extensive indices (names, topics, references to biblical sources and a vast body of literature beyond) are the key to the wealth of information provided. This set includes all five volumes.
5 vols, 4391p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, November 2014) hardcover, 9783525540244, $1095.00. Special Offer $712.00
What is Religion?
by Jeppe Sinding Jensen

Religious belief is one of the most pervasive and ubiquitous characteristics of human society. Religion has shadowed and illuminated human lives since primitive times, shaping the world views of cultures from isolated tribes to vast empires. Starting from the premise that religion is a concept which can be analyzed and compared across time and cultures, What is Religion? brings the most up-to-date scholarship to bear on humankind's most enduring creation. Accessible, wide-ranging, and engaging, What is Religion? is written primarily for undergraduate students in the study of religion, but it will also be invaluable for students of anthropology, history, psychology, sociology, and theology.

200p (Acumen Publishing, February 2014) paperback, 9781844657599, $17.95. Special Offer $15.00; hardcover, 9781844657582, $75.00. Special Offer $60.00

Baby, You Are My Religion
Women, Gay Bars, and Theology Before Stonewall
by Marie Cartier

Baby You Are My Religion argues that American butch-femme bar culture of the mid-20th Century should be interpreted as a sacred space for its community and explores this community as a site of a lived corporeal theology and political space. It examines how these bars became not only ecclesial sites but also provided the fertile ground for the birth of the struggle for gay and lesbian civil rights before Stonewall.

240p (Acumen Publishing, April 2014, Gender, Theology and Spirituality) paperback, 9781844658947, $29.95. Special Offer $24.00
Also available in hardcover (October 2013), 9781844656493, $90.00. Special Offer $72.00

Theorizing Islam
Disciplinary Deconstruction and Reconstruction
by Aaron W. Hughes

The scholarly study of Islam has become ever more insular and apologetic. The ignorance and hostility which the Islamic faith has faced since 9/11 has partly necessitated the taking of such a position. But, as Theorizing Islam argues, the issue remains that only one interpretation of Islam is generally being presented. The aim of Theorizing Islam is to explore the potential for a fuller, more honest and more sophisticated approach to both theory and methodology.

Also available in hardcover (March 2012), 9781908049380, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00

More than a Provocation
Sexuality, Media and Theology
by Stefanie Knauss

On the background of changes in contemporary sexual culture and theological developments in the reflection on sexuality, three media — internet, advertising, and film — are analyzed with respect to their representation of sexuality and their contribution to theological reflections on sex. This shows that sex in media is more than a provocation – it provides an inspiration for theological thinking about human beings, their relationships with others, and also with God.

230p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, April 2014, Research in Contemporary Religion 16) hardcover, 9783525604502, $70.00. Special Offer $56.00

Societies in Transition
Subsaharan Africa between Conflict and Reconciliation
edited by Martin Leiner, Maria Palme and Peggy Stoetckner

The second volume of the trans-disciplinary series Research in Peace and Reconciliation looks at ways of dealing with the past in Sub-Saharan Africa in recent decades and highlights the variety of peaceful strategies and processes. It asks to what extent this variety fosters the development of alternative methods for the transformation of violent conflict. The contributions focus on different African countries and regions. They take into account the influence of particular cultural contexts on processes of reconciliation and emphasize the importance of religions, rites, and tribal customs, as well as the complex legacy of colonialism.

272p (Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht, June 2014, Research in Peace and Reconciliation 2) hardcover, 9783525560181, $150.00. Special Offer $120.00
The Philosophy of Early Christianity
by George Karamanolis
George Karamanolis shows that early Christian thinkers, following the example of classical philosophy, developed a highly sophisticated method of philosophical thinking by means of which they constructed some of the most fundamental doctrines of Christianity. The book examines the character of early Christian philosophy and goes on to place its development in its cultural and historical context.

288p (Acumen Publishing, December 2013, Ancient Philosophies)
paperback, 9781844655687, $24.95. Special Offer $20.00
hardcover, 9781844655670, $90.00. Special Offer $72.00

Freud on Religion
by Marsha Aileen Hewitt
Sigmund Freud argued that religions originate in the unconscious needs, longings and fantasies of human minds. His work has served to highlight how any analysis of religion must explore mental life, both the cognitive and the unconscious. Freud on Religion examines Freud’s complex understanding of religious belief and practice. The book brings together contemporary psychoanalytic theory and case material from Freud’s clinical practice to illustrate how the operations of the unconscious mind support various forms of religious belief, from mainstream to occult.

192p (Acumen Publishing, April 2014, Key Thinkers in the Study of Religion)
paperback, 9781844657988, $24.95. Special Offer $20.00
hardcover, 9781844657971, $90.00. Special Offer $72.00

The Religion of the Peacock Angel
The Yezidis and their Spirit World
by Garnik S. Asatrian and Victoria Arakelova
Based in Iraq, Syria, and Turkey, the Yezidi people claim their religion a unique combination of Christian, Islamic, and historical faiths to be the oldest in the world. Yezidi identity centers on their religion, Sharfadin, which has evolved into a highly complex pantheon of one God with many incarnations, the chief of whom is Melek Taus, the Peacock Angel. The Yezidi faith can be traced to a range of pre-Islamic belief systems, such as Sufism, some extreme Shiite sects, Gnosticism and other traditions surviving from the ancient world. This particular formulation has served to unify Yezidi religious identity and ethnicity.

160p (Acumen Publishing, February 2014, Gnostica)
hardcover, 9781844657612, $90.00. Special Offer $72.00

The Invention of God in Indigenous Societies
by James L. Cox
Indigenous societies around the world have been historically disparaged by European explorers, colonial officials, and Christian missionaries. Nowhere was this more evident than in early descriptions of indigenous religions as savage, primitive, superstitious, and fetishistic. This book argues that, by alleging that God can be located at the core of pre-Christian cultures, this claim effectively invents a tradition which only makes sense theologically if God has never left himself without a witness. Examining a range of indigenous religions from North America, Africa and Australasia, the book argues that the interests of indigenous societies are best served by carefully describing their religious beliefs and practices using historical and phenomenological methods – just as would be done in the study of any world religion.

192p (Acumen Publishing, January 2014) paperback, 9781844657551, $29.95. Special Offer $24.00; hardcover, 9781844657544, $90.00. Special Offer $72.00

Lacan and Religion
by Aron Dunlap
Lacan and Religion presents students of religion and theology with a clear introduction to a famously difficult thinker. The theological analysis is grounded in a solid understanding of Lacan’s work as a psychoanalyst, whilst the book also explores how Lacan’s concepts can be fruitful for those who labor in what Lacan called the “field of the divine.”

224p (Acumen Publishing, March 2014)
paperback, 9781844657049, $29.95. Special Offer $24.00
hardcover, 9781844657032, $90.00. Special Offer $72.00
Methods for the Study of Religious Change
From Religious Studies to Worldview Studies
edited by André Droogers and Anton van Harskamp

This volume aims to redefine the study of religion as the study of worldviews, of ideas which are active in shaping the world. It argues that the study of religion should focus on people's worldview-making capacities and should contribute to the critical analysis of global problems and the promotion of cultural and spiritual respect across religions.

224p (Equinox Publishing, May 2014)
paperback, 9781781790434, $34.95. Special Offer $28.00
hardcover, 9781781790427, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00

Textbook Gods
Genre, Text and Teaching Religious Studies
edited by Bengt-Ove Andreassen and James R. Lewis

Not too many years ago many considered textbooks outdated or archaic compared with technological advances such as the Internet and different kinds of educational software. Despite these changes, textbooks for school subjects and for academic studies continue to be in demand. Textbook Gods offers perspectives on representations of religion and religions in textbooks.

256p (Equinox Publishing, May 2014)
paperback, 9781781790557, $29.95. Special Offer $24.00
hardcover, 9781781790540, $85.00. Special Offer $68.00

Everyday Humanism
edited by Dale McGowan and Anthony B. Pinn

Everyday Humanism seeks to move the discussion of humanism’s positive contributions to life away from the macro-level to focus on the everyday, or micro-dimensions of our individual and collective existence. How might humanist principles impact parenting? How might these principles inform our take on aging, on health, on friendship? These are just a few of the issues around everyday life that needed interpretation from a humanist perspective.

256p (Equinox Publishing, October 2014)
paperback, 9781781790458, $29.95. Special Offer $24.00
hardcover, 9781781790441, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00

Entanglements
Marking Place in the Field of Religion
by Russell T. McCutcheon

Entanglements attempts to argue against those who claim that scholarship on the category religion is only of secondary interest, in that it fails to do primary research on real religions. The volume collects eighteen responses, written across twenty years, that each exemplify the inevitably situated, give-and-take nature of all academic debate. These essays call into question the often used distinction between primary and secondary sources, between description and analysis.

224p (Equinox Publishing, May 2014)
paperback, 9781781790779, $26.95. Special Offer $22.00
hardcover, 9781781790762, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00

Sects and Stats
Overturning the Conventional Wisdom about Cult Members
by James R. Lewis

A major focus of early research on New Religious Movements (NRMs) was on the people who joined. However, the profile of NRM members changed substantially over time — changes that were largely missed. Sects and Stats aims to overturn the conventional wisdom by drawing on current quantitative data. The volume also makes a strong argument for the use of longitudinal methods in studying alternative religions.

256p (Equinox Publishing, October 2014)
paperback, 9781781791080, $29.95. Special Offer $24.00
hardcover, 9781781791073, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00

Anime, Religion and Spirituality
Profane and Sacred Worlds in Contemporary Japan
by Katharine Buljan and Carole M. Cusack

The mutual imbrication of the profane and sacred worlds in anime, along with the profound reciprocal relationship between ‘Eastern’ (Japanese) and ‘Western’ (chiefly American) culture in the development of the anime artistic form, form the twin narrative arcs of the book.

256p, 12 illus (Equinox Publishing, October 2014)
paperback, 9781781791103, $29.95. Special Offer $24.00
hardcover, 9781781791097, $100.00. Special Offer $80.00
Japanese Buddhist Pilgrimage
by Michael Pye

Japanese Buddhist Pilgrimage explores the ritual practice of "circulatory pilgrimages" — the visiting of many temples in a numbered sequence. Every year, hundreds of thousands of pilgrims travel such temple routes, seeking peace of mind, health, and well-being for themselves and others as the benefits. This form of pilgrimage appears to be unique to Japan. The practice began centuries ago and involved visiting 33 temples devoted to the Bodhisattva Kannon, spread widely over western Japan. This is the first comprehensive study of all the major and many of the minor routes. The book also examines how the practice of circulatory pilgrimage developed among the shrines and temples for the Seven Gods of Good Fortune, and beyond them to the rather different world of Shinto. The varying significance of the different pilgrimages is also explored. In addition, the book includes numerous illustrations and examples of the short Buddhist texts chanted by the pilgrims on their rounds.

208p, 42 b/w illus (Equinox Publishing, May 2014)

Special Offer $24.00; hardcover, 9781845539177, $95.00. Special Offer $76.00

A Student’s Guide to the History and Philosophy of Yoga
Second Edition
by Peter Connolly

The word yoga conjures up in the minds of many Westerners images of people performing exercises and adopting unusual, contortive postures. Such exercises and postures do have a place within the practice of yoga, but it is much more than that. This revised edition of a classic textbook concentrates on the evolution of yoga in the context of Indian culture, although the final chapters also explore its links with non-Indian mystical traditions and its developments outside India during the modern period.

300p, 10 b/w illus (Equinox Publishing, April 2014)

Special Offer $24.00; hardcover, 9781845532246, $95.00. Special Offer $76.00

Buddhist Monks and the Politics of Lanka’s Civil War
by Suren Raghavan

The war in Sri Lanka was violent and costly in human and material terms. Often referred to as an ‘ethnic’ conflict between the majority Sinhalas and the minority Tamils, the war had a profound religious dimension. Taking the lives of three key Sangha activists as the modern framework of a Sinhala Buddhist worldview, this book examines the limitations of Western theories of peacebuilding and such solutions as federalism and multinationalism. It analyzes Sinhala Buddhist ethnoreligious nationalism and argues for the urgent need to engage Buddhist politics with approaches and mechanisms that accommodate the Sangha as key actors in political reform.

224p, 6 b/w illus (Equinox Publishing, October 2014, Oxford Centre for Buddhist Studies Monographs) hardcover, 9781781790786, $80.00. Special Offer $64.00

Lay Buddhism and Spirituality
From Vimalakirti to the Nenbutsu Masters edited by Michael Pye

Early issues of The Eastern Buddhist contain short translations from various Buddhist texts, some of them quite important and all of considerable interest. Since they are set unobtrusively between modern statements and arguments about the nature of Buddhism, and in any case are difficult to locate, they have often gone unnoticed by students. Assembled here is a selection of those texts which have stood the test of time. Drawn from Sanskrit, Chinese and Japanese originals, they mainly reflect the Zen and Shin Buddhist traditions, though in the wider context of early Maha-ya-na Buddhism. Drawing them together into one volume brings out the fact that these varied Buddhist traditions are intricately related to each other. The result is an unusual and fascinating reader which would grace many a course in Buddhist studies.

256p (Equinox Publishing, July 2014, Eastern Buddhist Voices)

Special Offer $32.00; hardcover, 9781908049155, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00

The Arabs and the Scramble for Africa
by John C. Wilkinson

European colonial rivalries in Africa is not a subject in vogue today, while the Arabs are still largely viewed as invaders and slavers. The fact that the British separated the Sultanates of Muscat and Zanzibar reflects the poor European grasp of the geographic, tribal, and religious continuum that persisted between the overseas empire and the Omani homeland. Ibadism is regarded as irrelevant to the mainstream of Islamic religious protest, whereas its ideology played a significant role; even the final rally against the Belgians in the Congo was conducted in the name of an Imam al-Muslimîn. Back home, the fallout from the British massacre that crushed the last Arab attempt to reassert independence in Zanzibar was an important contributory cause towards the re-founding of an Imamate that survived until the mid-1950s.

384p (Equinox Publishing, October 2014, Comparative Islamic Studies)

Special Offer $80.00; hardcover, 9781781790687, $99.95. Special Offer $80.00
The Concept of the Soul
Scientific and Religious Perspectives
edited by Michael Fuller

The idea of the soul is one which will not go away. This is despite the fact that traditional dualist understandings of humankind have been widely criticized in recent decades, by scholars from both theological and scientific backgrounds. What are the origins of the centuries-old traditions of dualist thinking? How have they been developed, and what can still be learned from them? What can modern philosophers and theologians say about the concept of the soul from a monist perspective? What light can scientific studies of the brain cast on it? And what perspectives can faiths other than Christianity bring to these issues?

140p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, March 2014) paperback, 9781443854894, $49.95. Special Offer $40.00

Religion and Belief
A Moral Landscape
edited by Malcolm Heath, Christopher T. Green and Fabio Serranito

The book collates a wide range of issues and initiates a discussion on the nuances and multifaceted concepts of religion and belief. The topics range from ancient Greek religion and philosophy, through the Roman world and early Judeo-Christian beliefs, to modern burial practices and 21st century ‘New-Atheism’. By presenting religion and belief in this macrocosmic landscape, simple conceptions and caricatures of religion and belief are shown to be misleading and ultimately redundant.

196p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, May 2014) hardcover, 9781443856539, $67.95. Special Offer $55.00

Sport and the Christian Religion
A Systematic Review of Literature
by Nick J. Watson and Andrew Parker

This book provides a systematic and interdisciplinary analysis of the published literature and practical initiatives on the sports–Christianity interface from both Protestant and Catholic perspectives. Within the context of this relatively new and rapidly expanding area of inquiry, this text offers an original contribution to the current literature for undergraduate and postgraduate students and serves as a point of reference for academics from a wide range of related fields.

250p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, March 2014) hardcover, 9781443855037, $76.95. Special Offer $62.00

Secularisation
New Historical Perspectives
edited by Christopher Hartney

Inspired by scholarship conducted by the Religious History Association, this collected volume questions the paradigm of secularization by exploring its historical manifestations and making projections as to the future divide between religious life and the secular world. A must-read for anyone interested in events and personalities that shaped the religious landscape of the present, this volume contains meticulous historical research. It also presents a strong focus on the Southern Hemisphere.

280p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, May 2014) hardcover, 9781443856621, $76.95. Special Offer $62.00

The Church and the Slums
The Victorian Anglican Church and its Mission to Liverpool’s Poor
by Alastair Wilcox

By drawing upon a variety of local sources, this book evaluates the success of the Anglican Church in the slums. The Church had successes not only to be judged solely by the number of working class worshippers, but also by the uses the local community made of rites of passage, philanthropic activities and the clubs and societies offered.

260p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, February 2014) hardcover, 9781443854214, $75.95. Special Offer $61.00

Manufacturing Otherness
Missions and Indigenous Cultures in Latin America
edited by Sergio Botta

This book looks at the vast field of study concerning the history of missions from a specific viewpoint. Firstly, it focuses on local processes, singling out specific case studies to be used for a general reflection. On the other hand, it refocuses the attention on the Indigenous cultures, showing how they succeeded in entering the areas of negotiation created by missionaries, and in producing their own cultural subjectivity.

295p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, March 2014) hardcover, 9781443851602, $75.95. Special Offer $61.00

Religion and Belief
Scientific and Religious Perspectives
edited by Michael Fuller

The idea of the soul is one which will not go away. This is despite the fact that traditional dualist understandings of humankind have been widely criticized in recent decades, by scholars from both theological and scientific backgrounds. What are the origins of the centuries-old traditions of dualist thinking? How have they been developed, and what can still be learned from them? What can modern philosophers and theologians say about the concept of the soul from a monist perspective? What light can scientific studies of the brain cast on it? And what perspectives can faiths other than Christianity bring to these issues?

140p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, March 2014) paperback, 9781443854894, $49.95. Special Offer $40.00
The Conceptualisation of the Christian Life in John Henry Newman’s Parochial and Plain Sermons
by Marcin Kuczok
This book analyses the conceptual mechanisms behind the notion of the Christian Life in the collection of sermons preached by John Henry Newman (1801-1890). The study utilizes tools of cognitive semantics, such as the theory of conceptual metaphor and metonymy and the theory of conceptual integration. Cognitivism offers an integral perspective on language and is gaining in popularity among scholars in the whole world.
300p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, March 2014) hardcover, 9781443854597, $84.95. Special Offer $68.00

Mediating Religious Cultures in Early Modern Europe
edited by Torrance Kirby and Matthew Milner
Despite its many conflicts and tensions, the lingua franca for cultural self-understanding of the early modern period remains ineluctably religious. The early modern world wrestled with the radical challenges concerning the nature of belief within the confines of church or worship, but also beyond them. This process of negotiation was complex and fueled European social dynamics. Without religion we cannot begin to comprehend the myriad facets of early modern life, from markets, to new forms of art, to public and private associations.
302p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, April 2014) hardcover, 9781443852555, $75.95. Special Offer $61.00

Europe as a Multiple Modernity Multiplicity of Religious Identities and Belonging edited by Martina Topic and Srdjan Sremac
This volume challenges the predominant modernity theory, arguing that Europe can be considered as one multiple modernity. In that, the book presents a collection of essays showing the plurality of discourses and variety in human self-reflexion on notions of religious and belonging in everyday lives. Emphasis is placed on religious actors and individuals in Europe, and the multiplicity of their senses of religious identification and belonging.
385p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, April 2014) hardcover, 9781443856331, $84.95. Special Offer $68.00

Religion at Work in Globalised Traditions Rainmaking, Witchcraft and Christianity in Tanzania
by Terje Oestigaard
Why do traditions disappear? How is the disappearance of tradition also a vehicle for social change and re-inventions of practices and new traditions? Using case studies from one Sukuma area along the southern shores of Lake Victoria in Tanzania, global processes of how religions work in practice are analyzed by focusing on rainmaking, witchcraft, and Christianity.
320p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, March 2014) hardcover, 9781443854726, $84.95. Special Offer $68.00

Bard of the Bethel
The Life and Times of Boston's Father Taylor, 1793–1871
by Wendy Knickerbocker
Father Taylor was a sailors' missionary and reformer, a lively and eloquent preacher, a temperance advocate, an urban minister-at-large, and a champion of religious tolerance. His story is the portrayal of a unique and forceful American character, set against the backdrop of Boston in the age of revival and reform.
505p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, February 2014) hardcover, 9781443854078, $101.95. Special Offer $82.00

Openness with Roots
Education in Religion in Irish Primary Schools
by Caroline Renehan
This book considers the historical legacy and current debate concerning Education in Religion in the Republic of Ireland with specific reference to the primary school sector under Catholic denominational patronage and the complexity of Ireland's relatively unique context.
130p (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, January 2014) hardcover, 9781443853507, $67.95. Special Offer $55.00

www.isdistribution.com  Quote promotional code 210–14 for Special Offers  (+1) (860) 584 6546
Theologica Minora

The Minor Genres of Byzantine Theological Literature

edited by Antonio Rigo

This volume illuminates texts and theological genres which have so far remained unexplored or under-investigated by the vast majority of scholars. Whilst unlocking the as yet unknown troves of florilegia, religious poetry, and monastic kepalaia, the book investigates the cultural background of these different endeavors and provides an image of Byzantine theological literature which repudiates the rigid narratives proposed to date.

202p, 11 b/w illus (Brepols Publishers, January 2014, Studies in Byzantine History and Civilization 8) paperback, 9782503551029, $94.00. Special Offer $76.00

---

Diodore the Theologian

Pronoia in his Commentary of Psalms 1–50

by Benjamin D. Wayland

This study examines the role of theology in the biblical commentary of a fourth-century pastor and teacher. The notion that theology and scripture are inextricably connected in early Christian thinking has become a scholarly commonplace in contemporary patristic scholarship. But the nature of the connection has been less than clear, particularly with respect to the commentary on Psalms 1–50 (ca. 372) composed by Diodore of Tarsus (died ca. 394), as this volume demonstrates.

267p, 2 tbls (Brepols Publishers, January 2014, Studia Traditionis Theologicae. Explorations in Early and Medieval Theology 15) paperback, 9782503550503, $102.00. Special Offer $82.00

---

Miscellaneous Manichaean Hymns

edited by Desmond Durkin-Meisterernst

This is an edition of a large number of fragments of Middle Persian and Parthian Manichaean hymns in the Berlin Turfan Collection. The fragments are presented in diplomatic edition together with a transcription and translation into English. Since most of the hymns are abecedarian, they are presented as far as possible in strophic form. An extensive introduction, notes, a complete glossary and facsimiles of joined fragments accompany the edition.

400p (Brepols Publishers, March 2014, Berliner Turfantexte 31) paperback, 9782503546285, $109.00. Special Offer $88.00

---

The Karaite Mourners of Zion and the Qumran Scrolls

On the History of an Alternative to Rabbinic Judaism

by Yoram Erder

This book is dedicated to studying the Karaite Mourners of Zion, the leading faction within the Karaite movement during its formative period (9th–11th century). Like all Karaites, the Mourners claimed that the Rabbinic Oral Law was not given by God but is rather the ‘commandment of man’ (Isaiah 29.13). Therefore they called for a return to the Hebrew Bible. Studying the Qumranic influence on the Karaite Mourners sheds light simultaneously on early Karaism and the Jewish sects of the Second Temple period.

480p, illus (Brepols Publishers, May 2014, Diaspora 3) hardcover, 9782503543369, $160.00. Special Offer $128.00

---

Diodore the Theologian

Pronoia in his Commentary of Psalms 1–50

by Benjamin D. Wayland

This study examines the role of theology in the biblical commentary of a fourth-century pastor and teacher. The notion that theology and scripture are inextricably connected in early Christian thinking has become a scholarly commonplace in contemporary patristic scholarship. But the nature of the connection has been less than clear, particularly with respect to the commentary on Psalms 1–50 (ca. 372) composed by Diodore of Tarsus (died ca. 394), as this volume demonstrates.

267p, 2 tbls (Brepols Publishers, January 2014, Studia Traditionis Theologicae. Explorations in Early and Medieval Theology 15) paperback, 9782503550503, $102.00. Special Offer $82.00

---

Biblical and Other Christian Sogdian Texts from the Turfan Collection

by Nicolas Sims-Williams

The volume’s emphasis is on Biblical texts translated into Sogdian from the Syriac Peshitta version: a Psalter in Sogdian script, fragments of Gospel lectionaries, and a double-folio from a lectionary of the Pauline Epistles. Other texts edited in the volume include a retelling of the story of Daniel, a text on the Dormition of the Virgin Mary, and the "Wisdom of Ahiqar", all of them in recensions which differ from any known Syriac version.

226p, 17 b/w illus (Brepols Publishers, May 2014, Berliner Turfantexte 32) paperback, 9782503552385, $102.00. Special Offer $82.00
The Woman with the Blood Flow (Mark 5:24–34)
Narrative, Iconic, and Anthropological Spaces
edited by Barbara Baert

This volume contributes to all research in the humanities concerned with gender, the sensorium, Judeo-Christian attitudes towards blood and taboo, and early Christian material culture in the East and West. Its trajectory ultimately reveals the crucial mystery at the heart of image-making as such. This publication forms the first interdisciplinary study of this particular biblical motif from an exegetical, art-historical and anthropological point of view. 451p (Peeters Publishers, January 2014, Art & Religion 2) paperback, 9789042929647, $115.00. Special Offer $92.00

Ecclesiastic Landscape of North Ethiopia
edited by Denis Nosnitsin

Ecclesiastic Landscape of North Ethiopia brings together a selection of papers presented at the first International Workshop of the project Ethio-SPaRe: Cultural Heritage of Christian Ethiopia, Salvation, Preservation and Research. Project members and invited scholars, all with firsthand experience in Ethiopian manuscript studies, explored the spheres of influence in the historical monastic landscape of the North Ethiopian highlands. 188p (Harrassowitz Verlag, January 2014, Aethiopica. Supplements 2) paperback, 9783447101028, $56.00. Special Offer $45.00

Ephraem the Syrian
80 Hymns on Faith
by P. Russell

Ephraem the Syrian († 373) is the brightest light in the Syriac-speaking Christian tradition. A hymnographer, homilist, exegete, and theologian of great ability, his works provide a window into a sphere of early Christianity too little-known to modern readers. This collection of hymns, many of which show Ephraem’s involvement in the debates stemming from the Arian Controversy, contains much of his most fully articulated theological writing. 343p (Peeters Publishers, March 2014, Eastern Christian Texts in Translation 3) paperback, 9789042908369, $48.00. Special Offer $39.00

The Pontifical Biblical Institute
A Century of History (1909–2009)
by Maurice Gilbert, SJ

Based on documents from archives, eighty of which are reproduced, this circumstantial account retraces, step by step, the important periods the Institute has lived through, in Rome, then in Jerusalem. 512p (Gregorian & Biblical Press, January 2014) hardcover, 9788876536434, $45.00. Special Offer $36.00

Classical Syriac for Hebraists Second, revised edition
by Takamitsu Muraoka

Classical Syriac for Hebraists is intended for people who already have a basic knowledge of Biblical Hebrew and want to study Syriac, an important ancient Semitic language, a dialect of Aramaic. Syriac is the official language of the Syriac-speaking churches and has a vast amount of literature representing diverse areas of human knowledge. With previous knowledge of Hebrew assumed and related phenomenon in Hebrew frequently mentioned, the student can be expected to acquire reading knowledge of Syriac with reasonable ease and speed. 162p (Harrassowitz Verlag, February 2014, Subsidia et Instrumenta Linguarum Orientis (SILO) 6) paperback, 9783447100465, $46.00. Special Offer $37.00

Marcion and the Dating of the Synoptic Gospels
by M. Vinzent

Are the Synoptic Gospels at odds with Early Christian art and archaeology? Art and archaeology cannot provide the material basis ‘to secure the irrefutable inner continuity’ of the Christian beginnings (Erich Dinkler); can the Synoptic Gospels step in? The present volume is the first systematic study of all available early evidence that we have about the first witness to our Gospel narratives, Marcion of Sinope. It evaluates our commonly known arguments for dating the Synoptic Gospels, elaborates on Marcion’s crucial role in the Gospel making and argues for a re-dating of the Gospels to the years between 138 and 144 AD. 365p (Peeters Publishers, January 2014, Studia Patristica Supplements 2) paperback, 9789042930278, $106.00. Special Offer $85.00
Chroniques conciliaires

Vatican II tel que je l’ai expliqué aux lecteurs et lectrices du journal Le Droit 1962–1965

by Pierre Hurtubise

This volume collects the 63 chronicles Pierre Hurtubise wrote for the Canadian journal Le Droit d’Ottawa during the Second Vatican Council. French text.

239p (Peeters Publishers, March 2014, Instrumenta Theologica 36) paperback, 9789042930636, $60.00. Special Offer $48.00

---

Without Metaphor, No Saving God

Theology after Cognitive Linguistics

by Robert Masson

Studies of conceptual and neural mapping in cognitive linguistics, while posing a fundamental challenge for religious belief, also suggest new ways of understanding how people conceptualize God and make theological inferences. This book elaborates an innovative explanation of God-talk, better able to credibly address confusion and controversies that trouble the church, academic theology, and broader culture. The first part analyzes both cognitive linguistics’ challenge to standard theological depictions of metaphorical, analogous, symbolic, and literal language. The second half examines six case studies to illustrate how clarifying the conceptual mapping in God-talk and theological inferences provides a powerful tool for advancing religious understanding.

347p (Peeters Publishers, January 2014, Studies in Philosophical Theology 54) paperback, 9789042930193, $79.00. Special Offer $64.00

---

Ben Sira

Receuil d’études — Collected Essays

by Maurice Gilbert

This collection of twenty-five articles on the Book of Ben Sira, or Ecclesiastics, of which ten are in English and fifteen in French, is divided into twelve sections: General problems; Ben Sira and the Church Fathers; exegesis of the seven texts; additions to the second edition; three themes (Ben Sira and women, prayer, and wisdom and belief); intertextuality (Ben Sira and Genesis, Qohélet, Song of Solomon); and the state of the question today. English and French text.

416p (Peeters Publishers, March 2014, Bibliotheca Ephemeridum Theologicarum Lovaniensium 264) paperback, 9789042929814, $118.00. Special Offer $95.00

---

Studies in the Gospel of John and Its Christology

Festschrift Gilbert Van Belle

edited by Joseph Verheyden, Geert Van Oyen, Michael Labahn and Reimund Bieringer

Studies in the Gospel of John and Its Christology brings together a number of essays in honor of Gilbert Van Belle, professor of New Testament Studies at the Catholic University of Leuven. Some thirty colleagues responded to the invitation to contribute an essay on an aspect of the Christology of the Fourth Gospel. The editors have tried to cover all the important passages, and many more, that deal with this crucial topic in Johannine studies, which was also very much a focus of Van Belle’s own research. The essays are arranged according to the structure of the gospel. The first two contributions deal with hermeneutical issues in the prologue. They are followed by essays on (parts of) each chapter, including the epilogue in John 21, and one essay on the faith and witness motif in 1 John 5:6–12. The volume also includes the complete academic bibliography of the honoree.

692p (Peeters Publishers, January 2014, Bibliotheca Ephemeridum Theologicarum Lovaniensium 265) paperback, 9789042930223, $127.00. Special Offer $102.00

---

Re-thinking the Death of Jesus

An Exegetical and Theological Study of Hilasmos and Agape in 1 John 2:1–2 and 4:7–10

by Toan Do

This volume looks carefully at the peculiar Johannine usage of the noun hilasmos in 1 John 2:2 and 4:10, a word not used elsewhere in the NT. Moreover, other issues in and around the immediate contexts of the hilasmos-concept in 1 John have not been the subject of thorough discussion among NT scholars. As a result, many important issues in 1 John have been neglected and become secondary to those in the Fourth Gospel.

353p (Peeters Publishers, January 2014, Contributions to Biblical Exegesis & Theology 73) paperback, 9789042930261, $65.00. Special Offer $52.00
History, Ideology and Bible Interpretation in the Dead Sea Scrolls Collected Studies
by Devorah Dimant
In this volume, Devorah Dimant assembles twenty-seven thoroughly updated and partly rewritten articles discussing various aspects of the Dead Sea Scrolls that she published over the past three decades. Dealing with major themes developed in the Dead Sea Scrolls, the author reflects the rapid expansion and change of perspective that has taken place in research on the collection in recent years following its full publication. 650p (Mohr Siebeck, February 2014, Forschungen zum Alten Testament 90) hardcover, 9783161510212, $288.00. Special Offer $231.00

Reading Prophetic Books
Form, Intertextuality, and Reception in Prophetic and Post-Biblical Literature
by Marvin A. Sweeney
In this volume, Marvin A. Sweeney builds upon his former work “Form and Intertextuality in Prophetic and Apocalyptic Literature” (FAT 45, 2005). He introduces further studies that take up several key issues, including the reading of prophetic books in their final literary form and the significance of textual versions for this reading. He also observes the intertextual relationships between the prophets and other works of biblical and post-biblical literature, and the reception of the prophetic books. 440p (Mohr Siebeck, May 2014, Forschungen zum Alten Testament) hardcover, 9783161523748, $230.00. Special Offer $184.00

Rereading the relecture? The Question of (Post)chronistic Influence in the Latest Redactions of the Books of Samuel edited by Uwe Becker and Hannes Bezzel
This volume presents collected essays of a symposium held in Jena in August 2012 whose main question was whether there was something like a post-chronistic feedback into the Books of Samuel. The articles investigate the relationship between I-II Sam and I Chr in general aspects, as well as by means of a number of case studies. 270p (Mohr Siebeck, April 2014, Forschungen zum Alten Testament, 2. Reihe 66) paperback, 9783161519956, $102.00. Special Offer $82.00

Immigrants and Innovative Law Deuteronomy’s Theological and Social Vision for the גֵּר
by Mark Awabdy
Mark A. Awabdy provides a nuanced and extensive understanding of the noun גֵּר (gēr, engl. immigrant) in the book of Deuteronomy (D). He argues that a precise reconstruction of the historical referents of D’s gēr is impossible and has led scholars to misread or overlook literary, theological, and sociological determinants. By analyzing D’s gēr texts and contexts, evidence emerges for the non-Israelite and non-Judahite origins of D’s gēr. 280p (Mohr Siebeck, April 2014, Forschungen zum Alten Testament, 2. Reihe) paperback, 9783161528354, $119.00. Special Offer $95.00

Hezekiah and the Compositional History of the Book of Kings
by Benjamin D. Thomas
This study explores one of the oldest and most central issues of the Hebrew Bible: the compositional history of 1–2 Kings. The author reads 1–2 Kings through the lens of other texts with similar genres existing in its historical context. He also seeks to determine the extent of the original framework by mapping its opening and conclusion. 650p (Mohr Siebeck, July 2014, Forschungen zum Alten Testament, 2. Reihe) paperback, 9783161529351, $162.00. Special Offer $130.00

Monotheism and Institutions in the Book of Chronicles Temple, Priesthood, and Kingship in Post-Exilic Perspective
by Matthew Lynch
Matthew Lynch examines ways that the one God became known and experienced through institutions according to the book of Chronicles. Chronicles recasts Israel’s earlier histories from the vantage point of vigorous commitments to the temple and its supporting institutions (the priesthood and royal house), and draws out the numerous ways that those institutions mediate divine power and inspire national unity. By understanding and participating in the reestablishment of these institutions, Chronicles suggests that post-exilic Judeans could reconnect to the powerful God of the past despite the appallingly impoverished state of post-exilic life. 230p (Mohr Siebeck, March 2014, Forschungen zum Alten Testament, 2. Reihe 64) paperback, 9783161521119, $135.00. Special Offer $108.00
New Testament Language and Exegesis
A Diachronic Approach
by Chrys C. Caragounis

A sequel as well as an advance on the author's study The Development of Greek and the New Testament (WUNT 167), Chrys C. Caragounis applies the diachronic or holistic approach to the exegesis of the New Testament in this volume. He takes up for discussion a number of grammatico-syntactical areas of the New Testament and shows that previous exegesis, misguided by a myopic view of and approach to the Greek language, has not infrequently played havoc with the meaning and interpretation of its text.

400p (Mohr Siebeck, January 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament 323) hardcover, 9783161527647, $220.00. Special Offer $176.00

Scriptures and Sectarianism
Essays on the Dead Sea Scrolls
by John J. Collins

The Dead Sea Scrolls include many texts that were produced by a sectarian movement (and also many that were not). John J. Collins illustrates how the worldview of the sect involved a heightened sense of involvement in the heavenly, angelic world, and the hope for an afterlife in communion with the angels. The essays in this volume are divided into three main sections, dealing with Scripture and Interpretation, History and Sectarianism, and Sectarian Worldview.

350p (Mohr Siebeck, September 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament) hardcover, 9783161532108, $187.00. Special Offer $150.00

Forbidden Oracles?
The Gospel of the Lots of Mary
by AnneMarie Luijendijk

In this volume, AnneMarie Luijendijk presents for the first time a new early Christian divinatory text, preserved in a fifth- or sixth-century Coptic miniature codex, entitled The Gospel of the Lots of Mary, and places it within the context of practices of and debates about divination in the ancient Mediterranean world. The text, replete with biblical phrases but fundamentally materialistic in worldview, disrupts our concepts of what is religious in the ancient world.

200p (Mohr Siebeck, August 2014, Studien und Texte zu Antike und Christentum / Studies and Texts in Antiquity and Christianity) paperback, 9783161528590, $94.00. Special Offer $76.00

From Synagogue to Ecclesia Matthew’s Community at the Crossroads
by Charles E. Carlston and Craig A. Evans

This volume examines in detail five major motifs in the theology of Matthew: Christology, Law, Church, Scripture and Tradition, as well as History and Eschatology. In this study, they reveal a Jewish-Christian author who attempts to mediate the traditions of Judaism and early Christianity to Christian churches in his area that are becoming increasingly composed of former Gentiles.

450p, illus (Mohr Siebeck, September 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament) hardcover, 9783161518041, $204.00. Special Offer $164.00

Crucifixion in the Mediterranean World
by John Granger Cook

To understand the phenomenon of Roman crucifixion, John Granger Cook argues that one should begin with an investigation of the evidence from Latin texts and inscriptions supplemented by what may be learned from the surviving archaeological material. This evidence clarifies the precise meaning of terms, which in turn illuminate the Greek terms and texts that describe crucifixion. The author traces the use of the penalty by the Romans until its probable abolition by Constantine.

500p (Mohr Siebeck, April 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament 327) hardcover, 9783161531248, $204.00. Special Offer $164.00

Scriptural Incipits on Amulets from Late Antique Egypt
Text, Typology, and Theory
by Joseph E. Sanzo

The use of biblical and parabiblical texts on amulets and other apotropaic objects was ubiquitous in late antique Egypt. Among the passages most frequently cited were the opening lines (incipits) of the Gospels, the Psalms, and other scriptural texts. The present volume offers the first sustained study of the scriptural incipits on Greek and Coptic amulets from late antique Egypt.

280p (Mohr Siebeck, February 2014, Studien und Texte zu Antike und Christentum / Studies and Texts in Antiquity and Christianity) paperback, 9783161529658, $109.00. Special Offer $88.00
The Identity of Jesus Nordic Voices
edited by Samuel Byrskog, Tom Holmén and Matti Kankaaniemi

The authors of this volume approach the question of the identity of Jesus from different angles. Viewpoints vary from that of comparative religion to the analysis of the narratives Jesus told, some key events of his life, and existing identities of the first century Judaism. The overall aim is to provide informative and updated perspectives on one of the most central questions of the research field.

230p (Mohr Siebeck, July 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe) paperback, 9783161522048, $111.00. Special Offer $89.00

Conceptions of “Gospel” and Legitimacy in Early Christianity
by James A. Kelhoffer

Whether he is asking about the role of New Testament exegesis among other academic disciplines, the suppression of anger in Pauline writings, or at what point came to designate a written “Gospel,” James A. Kelhoffer’s careful exegetical analysis provides an intriguing lens through which to view early Christianity.

400p (Mohr Siebeck, May 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament 324) hardcover, 9783161526367, $213.00. Special Offer $171.00

Metaphor, Narrative, and Parables in Q
edited by Dieter T. Roth, Ruben Zimmermann and Michael Labahn

Research on Q has frequently been driven by questions addressing the legitimacy of the two-source hypothesis or by questions related to the reconstruction of this source. The authors of this volume make a conscious effort to refocus, at least to a certain extent, discussions concerning Q from questions of reconstruction to narratival and metaphorical aspects of this text. Narrative elements such as space, time, characters, plot, etc. on the one hand, and metaphorical elements such as Bildfeldtradition, socio-historical aspects of the images employed, etc. on the other, can be recognized and examined even apart from a precise, verbal reconstruction of a text.

423p (Mohr Siebeck, January 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament 315) hardcover, 9783161523380, $220.00. Special Offer $176.00

Bodily Resurrection and Ethics in 1 Cor 15
Connecting Faith and Morality in the Context of Greco-Roman Mythology
by Paul J. Brown

New Testament scholars have long recognized a relationship between the future resurrection and ethics. Paul J. Brown contributes to this ongoing discussion by tracing Paul’s logic for connecting the moral imperatives in 1 Cor 15 to the bodily resurrection.

312p (Mohr Siebeck, January 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe 360) paperback, 9783161530388, $135.00. Special Offer $108.00

Credible, Incredible
The Miraculous in the Ancient Mediterranean
edited by Tobias Nicklas and Janet E. Spittler

In this collection of essays, scholars of the ancient Mediterranean explore the representation of miracles in ancient literature. The contribution of this volume lies in the juxtaposition of various perspectives: Jewish, Christian and pagan authors are all brought into play; texts in which accounts of miracles are narrated are discussed alongside texts in which authors reflect on such accounts — either positively or negatively.

373p (Mohr Siebeck, January 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament 321) hardcover, 9783161525162, $203.00. Special Offer $163.00

Engaging, Contradicting, and Transcending the Stereotypes
by Laurie Brink

222p (Mohr Siebeck, March 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe 362) paperback, 9783161531637, $118.00. Special Offer $95.00

The Reception of Septuagint Words in Jewish-Hellenistic and Christian Literature
edited by Eberhard Bons, Ralph Brucker and Jan Joosten

The reception of the Septuagint in Greek-speaking Judaism and Christianity raises many questions: How do Jewish or Christian authors writing in Greek handle the difference existing for some words between the “biblical” usage and the usual meaning in Greek? To what extent did New Testament authors borrow their religious terminology from the Septuagint? And which words of the Septuagint continue in later writings with their specific meaning?

200p (Mohr Siebeck, April 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe 367) hardcover, 9783161529535, $102.00. Special Offer $82.00

The Miraculous in the Ancient Mediterranean
edited by Tobias Nicklas and Janet E. Spittler

In this collection of essays, scholars of the ancient Mediterranean explore the representation of miracles in ancient literature. The contribution of this volume lies in the juxtaposition of various perspectives: Jewish, Christian and pagan authors are all brought into play; texts in which accounts of miracles are narrated are discussed alongside texts in which authors reflect on such accounts — either positively or negatively.

373p (Mohr Siebeck, January 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament 321) hardcover, 9783161525162, $203.00. Special Offer $163.00

www.isdistribution.com Quote promotional code 210–14 for Special Offers (+1) (860) 584 6546 reconstructions of ancient liturgies. The topics of this collection range from Jewish Early Medieval poetry to Ancient Greek hymns.

230p (Mohr Siebeck, April 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe 363) paperback, 9783161532184, $118.00.
Special Offer $95.00

Reconsidering the Relationship between Biblical and Systematic Theology in the New Testament Essays by Theologians and New Testament Scholars edited by Brian Lugioyo, Benjamin E. Reynolds and Kevin J. Vanhoozer

The essays in this volume engage specific New Testament texts and theological doctrines through the lens of some of the following questions: Should systematic theology dominate biblical theology or the reverse? Should they form a partnership of equals? How would such a partnership function? The contributors include both systematic theologians and New Testament scholars.

Literature or Liturgy?
Early Christian Hymns and Prayers in their Literary and Liturgical Context in Antiquity
edited by Clemens Leonhard and Hermut Lühr

The essays in this volume elaborate on the question of how ancient pieces of liturgy might be found in the extant literature. It also asks how readers of these literary texts can avert the risk of anachronistic

Women, Work and Leadership in Acts
by Teresa J. Calpino

Teresa J. Calpino’s social-historical examination opens out the significance of two women often bypassed in studies of Acts of the Apostles, Tabitha (Acts 9:36–43) and Lydia (Acts 16:11–15). In this first ever work to analyze these women as a pair, Calpino takes special notice of the ways in which depictions of the ideal woman in Greco-Roman literature are at variance with the descriptions of Tabitha and Lydia.

240p (Mohr Siebeck, June 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe) paperback, 9783161527791, $111.00. Special Offer $89.00

A Heavenly Chorus
The Dramatic Function of Revelation’s Hymns
by Justin Jeffcoat Schedtler

The claim that Revelation’s hymns function as did Classical tragic choral lyrics insofar as they comment upon or interpret the surrounding narrative has become axiomatic in studies of Revelation. This book marks an advance in this line of inquiry by offering an exegetical analysis of Revelation’s hymns alongside a presentation of the forms and functions of ancient tragic choruses and choral lyrics.

Paul’s Witness to Formative Early Christian Instruction
by Benjamin A. Edsall

Benjamin A. Edsall provides a new approach to the classic quest for the preaching and teaching of the early Church. His method draws on ancient communication practices whereby communicators rely on knowledge they expect their audience to possess. This reconstruction of early Christian instruction is based on rhetorical cues in 1 Thessalonians, 1 Corinthians and Romans.

310p (Mohr Siebeck, April 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe) paperback, 9783161530487, $135.00. Special Offer $108.00

Sensitivity to Outsiders
Exploring the Dynamic Relationship between Mission and Ethics in the New Testament and Early Christianity edited by Jacobus Kok, Tobias Nicklas, Dieter T. Roth and Christopher M. Hays

From its very beginning, Christianity was an innovative movement which had to construct and maintain its identity, morality, and social as well as theological boundary markers as it developed from a religion of conversion into a religion of tradition. This volume reflects on the dynamic relationship between mission and ethos in the New Testament and Early Christianity, focusing particularly on the sensitivity, or lack thereof, to outsiders.

500p (Mohr Siebeck, May 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe 364) paperback, 9783161528835, $135.00. Special Offer $108.00

Christ Absent and Present
A Study in Pauline Christology
by Peter Orr

In his letters, the Apostle Paul can express both the confidence that Christ dwells in the believer and the longing for Christ to return so that believers can finally be united with him. Peter Orr develops the case that this under-explored relationship between the presence and absence of Christ sheds important light on Paul’s Christology.

259p (Mohr Siebeck, February 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe 354) paperback, 9783161521768, $118.00. Special Offer $95.00

Literature or Liturgy?
Early Christian Hymns and Prayers in their Literary and Liturgical Context in Antiquity
edited by Clemens Leonhard and Hermut Lühr

The essays in this volume elaborate on the question of how ancient pieces of liturgy might be found in the extant literature. It also asks how readers of these literary texts can avert the risk of anachronistic dedicated to optimizing religion’s observation of divine manifestation, and its interpenetration with society, via recursive feedback interactions with diverse social systems.

400p, illus (Mohr Siebeck, October 2014, Religion in Philosophy and Theology) paperback, 9783161495403, $119.00. Special Offer $96.00

Mara bar Sarapion: Letter to His Son edited with a translation, introduction and commentary by Annette Merz

This first monograph-length treatment of the Syriac Letter of the Stoic Mara bar Sarapion of Samosata to his son contains a critically edited text, English and German translations, and notes on language, syntax, cultural background, and parallels from ancient literature, along with an introduction and essays on central questions of interpretation.

300p, illus (Mohr Siebeck, December 2014, Scripta Antiquitatis Posterioris ad Ethicum Religionemque pertinentia 17) paperback, 9783161501630, $102.00. Special Offer $82.00

Rethinking Theology in an Age of Information
A Constructive Appropriation of Niklas Luhmann’s Systems Theory by Young Bin Moon

Young Bin Moon offers a comprehensive theoretical framework of theology for the information age and constructively draws on Niklas Luhmann’s systems theory. He argues that theological discourse is a complex communicative quasi-system rule. The studies examine various modes of cultural connections between these societies, such as historical, social, legal, and exegetical intersections.

450p (Mohr Siebeck, August 2014, Texts and Studies in Ancient Judaism) hardcover, 9783161528330, $255.00. Special Offer $204.00

Educating Early Christians through the Rhetoric of Hell ‘Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth’ as Paideia in Matthew and the Early Church
by Meghan Henning

In this book, Meghan Henning explores the rhetorical function of the early Christian concept of hell. Building upon classical rhetorical techniques and the descriptions of Hades in Greek and Roman literature, she contends that the ancient Christian concept of hell was developed as a part of a distinctively Christian paideia. She traces the history of this interpretive process, illustrating the ways in which early Christians drew upon the Greek and Roman system of ethical and cultural education, to create and maintain their own culture.

420p (Mohr Siebeck, July 2014, Wissenschaftliche Untersuchungen zum Neuen Testament, 2. Reihe) paperback, 9783161529634, $145.00. Special Offer $116.00

Revelation
Claremont Studies in the Philosophy of Religion, Conference 2012 directed by Ingolf U. Dalfther and Michael Ch. Rodgers

Revelation is a central category in many religions. Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Mormonism or Unificationists are difficult if not impossible to imagine without it. The papers in this volume address three areas of debate: Revelation and Reason, Hermeneutics of Revelation, and Phenomenology of Revelation.

292p (Mohr Siebeck, March 2014, Religion in Philosophy and Theology 74) paperback, 9783161531989, $126.00. Special Offer $101.00

Luke–Acts and Jewish Historiography
A Study on the Theology, Literature, and Ideology of Luke–Acts
by Samson Uytanlet

Luke’s theology is typically studied in light of Jewish writings while Luke’s literature is studied in relation with Greco–Roman works. The author shows that there are theological, literary, and ideological elements that ancient Greco–Roman and Jewish writings share which are also present in Luke’s work.

Negativism of Revelation?
Bonhoeffer and Barth on Faith and Actualism
by Edward van’t Slot

The dialogue between those great theologians affords us a deeper insight in fundamental concepts such as ‘revelation’, ‘faith’, ‘christological concentration’, and ‘discipleship’. Edward van’t Slot reads this dialogue with regard to both its historical and its theological significance. He shows what Bonhoeffer means when he attacks Barth’s ‘positivism of revelation’, and compares it with Barth’s earlier ‘negativism of revelation’.

370p (Mohr Siebeck, September 2014, Dogmatik in der Moderne) paperback, 9783161531835, $128.00. Special Offer $103.00
Ephesians, Philippians, and Colossians. The texts have been historically and critically edited on the basis of the first edition, as well as the first complete edition of Bullinger’s comments on the New Testament epistles. German text. 350p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, March 2014) hardcover, 9783290177348, $121.00. Special Offer $97.00

Heinrich Bullinger — Werke
Abt. 3: Theologische Schriften. Bd. 7: Kommentar zu den neutestamentlichen Briefen / Gal — Eph — Phil — Koledited by Luca Baschera

In the spirit of the Reformation, Heinrich Bullinger considered theology to be primarily the interpretation of Scripture. This volume continues the text edition of his comments on the New Testament epistles, including his interpretation of the letters to the Galatians, in particular where churches are operated by people with different thoughts and beliefs. The authors combine theoretical approaches with practical insights: a theological introduction is followed by contributions on church pedagogy and excurses on the history of art and architecture. German text. 160p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, May 2014) paperback, 9783290177539, $27.00. Special Offer $22.00

Heinrich Bullinger — Werke
Abt. 2: Briefwechsel. Bd. 16: Briefe von Januar bis Mai 1546edited by Reinhard Bodenmann, Judith Steiniger and Alexandra Kess

For historians interested in the 16th century, the correspondence of the Zurich Antistes Heinrich Bullinger (1504-1575) provides one of the most significant sources in terms of politics, culture, church history, the history of ideas and biography. This volume publishes, summarizes and comments upon approximately 140 letters written from January to May 1546. German text. 500p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, June 2014) hardcover, 9783290177607, $130.00. Special Offer $104.00

Gemeinsames Gebet
Form und Wirkung des Gottesdienstesedited by Luca Baschera, Angela Berlis and Ralph Kunz

The church service of a congregation gathered in the name of Jesus Christ is collective prayer. This collective prayer always takes on a certain form and always has an effect. But what does the form of the liturgy amount to and what is its effect? In how far can a collectively celebrated mass be influential to the life of the individual, the community, or the whole Church in the long run? German text. 256p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, June 2014, Praktische Theologie im reformierten Kontext 9) paperback, 9783290177584, $37.00. Special Offer $30.00

Katholiken im Kanton Zürich
Eingewandert, Anerkannt, Gefordertby Alfred Borter, Urban Fink, Max Stierlin and René Zihlmann

The recent history of Catholics in the canton of Zurich does not go back very far: it begins with the first Catholic immigrants at the end of the 18th century. This study follows the most significant phases since that time and describes them colorfully. Numerous interviews and portraits show how diversified the Roman Catholic Church in the Canton of Zurich is today, providing a unique insight into the wider picture of parishes and congregations, ecclesiastical and cantonal institutions, clerics, employees and volunteer staff. German text. 288p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, February 2014) hardcover, 9783290200992, $35.00. Special Offer $28.00

Kirchen Bildung Raum
Beiträge zu einer aktuellen Debatteedited by Christoph Sigrist and Simon Hofstetter

Church buildings are popular. They represent treasure troves for an experience of faith built in stone and made visible, and they hold an added value of having a distinctly Christian connotation. Visitors ask about the meaning and significance of paintings, sculptures, inscriptions and the space itself, for historians interested in the 16th century, the correspondence of the Zurich Antistes Heinrich Bullinger (1504-1575) provides one of the most significant sources in terms of politics, culture, church history, the history of ideas and biography. This volume publishes, summarizes and comments upon approximately 140 letters written from January to May 1546. German text. 500p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, June 2014) paperback, 9783290200992, $57.00. Special Offer $46.00

Kirchliche Religionspädagogik in der Schweiz
Reformierte Perspektiven am Beispiel des Zürcher Religionspädagogischen Gesamtkonzepts (rpg)by Rahel Voirol-Sturzenegger

Based on an empirical study by the Zürcher Religionspädagogisches Gesamtkonzept, the general Zurich religious education concept, this book describes the experience of pedagogical staff in the parishes and of children and their families and asks on a general level how the opportunities provided by a church-based religious education can best be seized. German text. 500p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, June 2014) paperback, 9783290177591, $57.00. Special Offer $46.00
Interreligiöse Theologie
Chancen und Probleme
edited by Reinhold Bernhardt and Perry Schmidt-Leukel

This volume deals with theological questions not only on the basis of the Christian tradition, but in relationship with other religious traditions. It illuminates developments within the last 50 years in such diverse areas of theology as intercultural/contextual theology, interreligious dialog, theology of religions, systematic theology within the context of religions, comparative theology, and interreligious feminist theology. German text.

296p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, May 2014, Beiträge zu einer Theologie der Religionen 11) paperback, 9783290177188, $45.00. Special Offer $36.00

Phänomen Freikirchen
Im Innern eines kompetitiven Milieus edited by Jörg Stolz, Olivier Favre, Caroline Gachet and Emmanuelle Buchard

What are the reasons for the astonishing success of the Evangelical Lutheran Free Church in modern society? What kind of lifestyle do members of the scene cultivate? On the basis of nearly one hundred in-depth interviews and a range of representative studies, the phenomenon of the free churches is explained and analyzed in as yet unmatched detail. German text.

256p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, May 2014, CULTuREL – Religionswissenschaftliche Studien 5) paperback, 9783290220259, $37.00. Special Offer $30.00

Aufmerksam predigen
Eine homiletische Grundperspektive
by Thomas Schlag

In principal, mindful preaching represents both more and something other than simply rhetorical instruction in giving ‘better’ or ‘more appealing’ sermons. This study provides an orientation for preaching practice with a socially relevant objective and from the perspective of a ‘public church’. German text.

100p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, March 2014, Theologische Studien 9) paperback, 9783290178086, $16.00. Special Offer $13.00
Unser Gott – euer Gott?
Christentum und Weltreligionen
by Stephan Leimgruber

What is a religion? How do the religions relate to each other? From the basis of today’s multicultural and religiously pluralist situation, Stephan Leimgruber seeks to understand Christianity in the context of the world religions. Based on documents from the Second Vatican Council, he advocates an intensification of the dialogue between Christians and the followers of the great religions. The author provides individual theses for just such a dialogue with Judaism, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism and Jainism. German text.

300p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, February 2014, Studiengang Theologie 12) paperback, 9783290200985, $40.00. Special Offer $32.00

Sensenfrau und Klagemann Sterben und Tod mit Gendervorzeichen
edited by Silvia Schroer

Notions of dying and death are gender specific. Practical attitudes to and experiences of death and dying are by no means the same for men and women, both for biological reasons and also for reasons of social and cultural attribution. This volume publishes contributions to a public conference held at the Theological Faculty of Bern in May 2013 that addressed the gender components of death. German text.

160p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, April 2014) paperback, 9783290177492, $27.00. Special Offer $22.00

Palliative und Spiritual Care
Aktuelle Perspektiven in Medizin und Theologie
edited by Isabelle Noth

Who should look after the soul: the pastor or the doctor? What interdisciplinary opportunities and risks lie in palliative and spiritual care? These contributions of a conference held by the department of pastoral care at the theological faculty of Bern in cooperation with the Inselspital Bern and the Federation of Swiss Protestant Churches in April 2013 illustrate the different perspectives of medicine and theology. German text.

160p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, March 2014) paperback, 9783290177614, $27.00. Special Offer $22.00

Die Badener Disputation von 1526
Kommentierte Edition des Protokolls edited by Alfred Schindler and Wolfram Schneider-Lastin

The Disputation held in Baden in 1526 was a major event of the Reformation period, comparable to the Leipzig Disputation of 1519 and the Diet of Worms of 1521, and of critical significance for the further course of Swiss history. Now for the first time, a critically edited text has been made available, which includes commentary on language and sources, a historical and a philological introduction and a bio-bibliographical index of approximately 60 of the 200 known participants. German text.

720p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, June 2014) hardcover, 9783290177577, $83.00. Special Offer $67.00

Einfach unsverschämt zuversichtlich FAMA – 30 Jahre feministische Theologie
edited by Monika Egger and Jacqueline Sonego Mettner

Feminist theology and thoughtfulness in the journal FAMA – this volume gathers the most inspiring, the most touching, the most significant, and the most recent contributions of the last thirty years. Here, women have their say on matters ecumenical and inter-religious, national and international, going far beyond theological boundaries. German text.

200p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, March 2014) paperback, 9783290177522, $26.00. Special Offer $21.00

Hinterfragen und Handeln
Ein Vierteljahrhundert HEKS-Geschichte(n)
by Franz Schüle

For 25 years, Franz Schüle was head of HEKS, the Hilfswerk der Evangelischen Kirchen der Schweiz (relief organization of the Protestant Churches of Switzerland). In his role he witnessed the lives of people and churches in totalitarian Europe before the Wende or change, the Christmas 1989 revolution in Romania, and the wars in former Yugoslavia. Looking back, he narrates HEKS’s history as HEKS’s stories. This volume provides insights into the development of the HEKS as well as into the social and political processes in Switzerland over the past 25 years. German text.

200p (TVZ – Theologischer Verlag Zürich, April 2014) paperback, 9783290177515, $35.00. Special Offer $28.00
V&R eLibrary

V&R’s new Content Platform

With the V&R eLibrary you get access to about 2,000 eBooks and 26 eJournals by Vandenhoeck & Ruprecht and V&R unipress. The platform is directed toward your needs and offers all advantages of digital research and the management of entire electronic collections:

- high quality content
- approved technology
- attractive purchase options

For further information please contact: Marit Hansen | m.hansen@v-r.de

Visit us in New Orleans and get your exclusive free trial access!

Booth #40

V&R Academic
www.v-r.de
Order Form

Special Offers are valid through July 31st, 2014. When ordering, please quote promotional code 210–14.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ISBN</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Price</th>
<th>Qty</th>
<th>Cost</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Shipping & Handling

Please add (US) $5.00 for the first book, $2.50 each add’l, (Canada) $12.00 for the first book, $8.00 each add’l, (Overseas) $20.00 for the first book, $10.00 each add’l. We ship via UPS, so please provide an institutional or commercial address where possible.

Subtotal $__________

5% Canadian GST or 6.35% CT Sales Tax $__________

Shipping $__________

Total $__________

Payment Method

- [ ] Check for Total enclosed (payable to ISD)
- [ ] Charge my [ ] VISA [ ] MasterCard [ ] AMEX [ ] Discover

Card Number _______________________________

Expiration Date ____ / ____ Security Code _______

(last 3 digits on back of Visa, MC, Discover; 4 digits on front of AMEX)

Ship To

Name ________________________________

Street ________________________________

City __________________ State _____ Zip _________

Day Phone ____________________________

E-mail ________________________________