

A Victorian View of Ancient Rome

The Parker Collection of Historical Photographs in the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology

by Judith Keller and Kenneth A. Breisch

DESCRIPTION:

British antiquarian John Henry Parker (1806-1884) was among the first to use photography to document the surviving ruins of ancient Rome in the 1860s, but his project to do so remains little-understood and his photographs under-utilized. This illustrated book explores Parker's work through a rare set of his images housed in the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology, and reassesses the value of his legacy.
